CITY TO PAUSE IN TRIBUTE TO ITS WAR DEAD

Annual Memorial Day Services To Be Held at Marion Cemetery Friday.

Marion residents, some with greater feeling for the day, will honor the city's war dead with the traditional parade and ceremonies at Marion cemetery Friday.

Though founded following the war between the states to honor living veterans of the struggle, Memorial Day this year will hold the attention of all who remember the men of two World Wars who lie in foreign cemeteries today. Only memories remain now of the "men in blue," once prominent in Memorial Day ceremonies, who marched and later rode in the annual parades. With practically all veterans of World War II at home, they are expected to be well represented in this year's parade.

The day will be marked by general cessation of business activities. Stores, public offices and industries will be closed. County and city offices will close all day Friday but will resume work Saturday morning.

Parade To Be Feature

Patriotic organizations and their auxiliaries, Boy and Girl Scouts will participate in a parade from the downtown section to the cemetery preceding ceremonies. The marchers are scheduled to be in areas where the parade is to form by 9:15 a. m., and the parade is scheduled to start at 9:45. Route of the parade will be—east on Center street to Main and south on Main to the cemetery.

State highway patrolmen will be in the vanguard along the line of march, followed by city police and firemen, colors carried by members of the American Legion, and the grand marshal and his staff, including Col. Hubert Tayler, grand marshal, Col. R. E. Copeland, chief of staff, Lt. Col. L. H. Larsen, assistant chief of staff and members of the general staff.

The first division of the parade with Jewell Ralston as chief will form on Oak street facing Center street, and will include the following: Caledonia High school band, flower girls, Marion public school pupils, St. Mary parochial school pupils, Daughters of Veterans, Ladies of the G.A.R., Women's Relief Corps, Girl Reserves, Daughters of America, Betsy Ross Auxiliary, D.A.V. Auxiliary, V.F.W. Auxiliary, Rainbow Auxiliary, Minnetonka Council No. 24, Pocahontas, Lime City Council No. 206, Junior Order of United Mechanics, Order of Eagles and degree team, labor organizations and auxiliaries, Salvation Army and Loyal Order of Moose.

Second Division

Fred F. Miller will be chief of the second division which will form on the sidewalk east of Central Junior High school grounds facing Center street. The division will be headed by the Harding High school band followed by Boy and Girl Scout troops, the Boy Scouts falling in at the rear.

The third division will form on North Prospect street facing Center street. Capt. Elmer Smith is in charge. Composing the division will be the Eagles band, Co. M, Ohio State Guard, Co. C, National Guard of Ohio, Spanish War Veterans, American Legion Post, No. 162, American Legion Post No. 584, American Legion Colored post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Marion chapter of AmVets, D.A.V., Dyer J. Byrd Chapter of Rainbow division, Navy club, all veterans not included in veterans' organizations, Pleasant Township school band, Air Force association, Marion Army Recruiting station and Red Cross ambulance section.

The remainder of the third division will consist of an automobile convoy bearing Carl O. Midlam, president of the day, John Moore, vice president, Memorial Day speakers, Gold Star mothers, widows of veterans, disabled veterans of all wars and Spanish American war veterans.

Parade To Reform

After ceremonies at the cemetery all units of the parade with the exception of school children will reform and march up State street to the southwest corner of the postoffice where they will pass in review before disbanding.

Following the tradition set by General Logan after the War between the states, the memory of veterans who have given their lives in all wars will be honored. Though the "boys in blue" are but memories now, the pattern of the program will contain the traditional words spoken during the years when they marched as a

WORLD HONORS AMERICAN HEROES TOMORROW

"WHITE CROSSES, ROW ON ROW"—This American cemetery near Luxemburg is just one of 16 in foreign lands.

* * *

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON—America's soldier dead overseas are being honored this Memorial day at services in military cemeteries in nearly every part of the world.

By next Memorial day the bodies of thousands of World War II service men which now lie in foreign soil will be resting in their homeland. Steel caskets in which the remains of soldiers, sailors, Marines and Coast Guardsmen will be brought home, are arriving in Europe. The law requires bodies to be returned if next of kin desire.

The first ships bringing back bodies of the war dead are expected to reach this country in October. The plan is to return first the remains of those who now rest in about 16 cemeteries in Europe, Africa and the Hawaiian islands.

List of Cemeteries

These include the Henri Chapelle cemetery, Belgium; U. S. military cemeteries, St. Laurent, France; Cambridge, England; Nettuno, Italy, and Gela, Socily; European cemetery, Casablanca, French Morocco; the American cemeteries at Gafsa, Tunisia, and Tunis.

Also these cemeteries in Hawaii: Schofield Barracks, Mokapu, Nuuanu and Halawa on Oahu island; Homelani on Hilo; Makaweli on Kauai; and Makawao, on Maui island.

Congress authorized the return, at government expense, of the bodies of women as well as men in the armed forces and of civilians attached to the armed forces.

The Quartermaster Corps, in charge of the return, recently had received 8,800 replies to 20,000 letters of inquiry sent to families. Some 77 per cent wanted their war dead returned. And 63 per cent of those desiring their return said they wished them to be buried in private cemeteries at home.

Meanwhile, all of this country's 209 military cemeteries abroad have been beautified with shrubs and flowers, the building of fences and the erection of markers. In row upon row, white crosses and stars of David rise from the greensward. On every grave, this Memorial day, there will be at least an American flag.

Long Identification Process

The work of identifying the dead will go on for some time. Of some 328,000 who lost their lives abroad in World War II, the bodies of 269,000 are buried in known locations. About 250,000 of these have been identified. An additional 17,126 bodies are known to be recoverable. Others have been buried at sea or are among the missing.

The cost of the return and final burial program is estimated at some $200,000,000. Congress has set a time limit of five years for its completion.

An Unknown Service Man—soldier, sailor, Marine, or Coast Guardsman of World War II—will eventually be laid to rest beside the Unknown Soldier of World War I in Arlington National cemetery.

HOUSE PASSES SCHOOL BILL

Ohio Representatives Approve Measure To Increase State Allotment.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 29—The house passed today the $83,000,000 Daniels-Cramer school bill by a vote of 105 to 17, inserting only one amendment which earmarks 75 per cent of the money for teachers' salaries.

* * *

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 29—The house approved unanimously today an amendment requiring 75 per cent of a proposed $23,500,000-a-year increase in school appropriations be used to hike teachers' salaries.

This action followed a recommendation from Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

An amendment requiring the schools to spend the money in this manner was prepared today by Chairman Paul H. Ballard of the house finance committee as the school bill came up for a vote in the house.

The bill, already approved by the senate, carries $83,000,000 a year in state funds for the public schools.

Governor Herbert, endorsing the figure in a public statement, announced he would sign the bill at that amount.

The $83,000,000, he stated, represents an increase of $23,500,000 or 38 per cent over what the state gave to the schools in 1946 and is an increase of 73 per cent over what they received in 1944.

In contrast, he added, it is $1,000,000 more than the program recommended to him last December by the Ohio Education association, the principal unit in the powerful school lobby.

The measure also liberalizes the formula for distributing the funds to schools. It requires that the schools be paid in proportion to their average daily membership, in comparison with the present formula of average daily attendance.

This will mean an additional $6,500,000 a year to the schools.

Andrew R. Noggle Accused in Burning of House.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, O., May 29—Arson charges were filed this morning against Andrew R. Noggle, 57, of near Bucyrus, and a former Marion resident. A hearing before the justice of peace was scheduled for today.

Decision to file charges was announced by Sheriff Ralph Schreck following a conference with Gayle H. Owens, assistant state fire marshal. Noggle was charged with setting fire to his own home near Spore, May 15.

The Holmes township farmer was taken into custody after an investigation by the fire marshal and sheriff and submitted to a lie detector test at Toledo Tuesday.

Noggle's home near the National Lime and Stone company was destroyed by fire May 15.

EISENHOWER DENIES MAY'S STATEMENTS

WASHINGTON, May 29—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower testified today at Andrew J. May's trial on wartime bribe charges that he knew "nothing at all about" reported efforts to seek expanded shell production in 1945.

May, former Kentucky congressman, has testified that because Eisenhower was "screaming" for more artillery shells in Europe he protested a cutback that year in a shell contract with the $78,000,000 Garssons munitions combine.

Child Drowns While Playing Near River

Josetta Galati, 18-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Galati, drowned Wednesday when she fell into the Little Scioto river near the Galati home one mile west of Forest Glen Memorial park on county road 66. Sheriff LeRoy Retterer, deputies and neighbors searched the swollen waters from shortly after the child was missed at 10 a. m. until 2:45 p. m. when the body was found near the opposite bank about 150 feet from the place were she had been playing when she fell into the water. The current had washed away part of a bank from six to eight feet high, he said, and Josetta apparently fell from the top of the bank.

River Out of Banks

Scene of the accident, according to Sheriff Retterer, was part of the Galati front yard which had been flooded by the river. He said a fence normally separating the dooryard from the river was under water.

Josetta and two other Galati children, John and Joyce were playing in the front yard when the accident happened, Mrs. Galati said. She was unable to say just when it occurred, explaining she was working in the house when Joyce ran into the house and told her Josetta had fallen into the stream. Mr. Galati was working at the American Malleable Casting Co. at the time.

Entire Property Searched

A thorough search of the house and yard were also made while the hunt was conducted in the water since Mrs. Galati had been unable to determine if Josetta had fallen into the river or had been playing somewhere else on the property.

Searchers were hindered by cold water and swift currents of the flooded stream. Sheriff Retterer explained that precautionary measures had been taken against the body being washed further downstream by stretching fencing across the river. During the afternoon a rubber life raft was brought to the scene and manned by neighbors who dragged the bottom with rakes. Others standing on the bank held ropes to prevent the raft from being carried away by the swift current.

Born in Marion

Josetta Marie Galati was born in Marion November 29, 1945, to Tony and Evelyn Conn Galati. The father is a native of Marion, and the mother was born in Mishawaka, Ind. Beside Joyce and John Mr. and Mrs. Galati are parents of another son, Tony Jr.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Edwin K. Smith Home for Funerals on East Center street. Rev. Albert M. Wood, pastor of Second Pilgrim Holiness church, will officiate. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery.

His Mother Better, Truman Flies Home

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, May 29—President Truman left for Washington today after last-minute assurances of the continued improvement of his ailing mother.

The President, his wife and daughter, Margaret, took off at 9:06 a. m. from the Fairfax airport in nearby Kansas in the presidential plane, the so-called "Sacred Cow."

Shortly after arising in his apartment at the Hotel Muehlebach here, the President telephoned Grandview to get a report on 94-year-old Mrs. Martha E. Truman. Her surprising comeback during the past few days enabled him to give up a 12-day vigil at her bedside in nearby Grandview, Mo.

OFFICER JAILED FOR "SOUVENIRING" GEMS

By The Associated Press

YOKOHAMA, May 29—Edward J. Murray, a colonel of infantry who won his decorations in combat, heard an army court martial sentence him to 10 years imprisonment for misappropriation of a fortune in diamonds he had taken home as "souvenirs of war."

Murray stood silent, shoulders sagging, as the sentence was read.

The Palo Alto, Calif., officer was convicted of all six specifications filed against him—covering misappropriation of the stones and failure to declare them or pay customs on them. In addition to serving 10 years at hard labor, he was ordered dismissed from the service with forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

The sentence is subject to review by the U. S. Eighth Army commander, Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, who may reduce

Four Children Burned To Death in Alabama

By The Associated Press

LANETT, Ala., May 29—Four children burned to death last night when fire destroyed their home in the Huguley community, three miles from here.

The mother of the children, Mrs. Henry Colson, was at work in the Lanett cotton mill when the tragedy occurred. Coroner Clyde Blakely said the father was in the Chambers county jail charged with cutting a man last week.

FAIR LIQUOR BAN REPEALED

Bill Knocking Out 96-Year-Old Law Passed; Herbert Seen Signing.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 29—The legislature sent to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today a bill to erase the 96-year-old ban on sale of liquor within two miles of state and county fairs, and indications were he would sign it.

The house completed passage of the controversial measure by a vote of 83 to 34 after rejecting attempts of drys to insert a provision to prevent issuance of new liquor permits within 500 feet of schools and churches.

Rep. Roy F. McMahon (R-Cuyahoga), who presented the senate-passed proposal, described the present statute as a "relic of the horse and buggy days."

Bans against sale of liquor within two miles of the Lancaster Boys Industrial school, 1,200 feet of certain state hospitals, and one mile of any children's home also were wiped out by the new legislation.

Other Bills Passed

Other business transacted by the general assembly included:

House approval of a bill paving the way for acquisition of a new state fairgrounds site;

Senate passage of a retirement pension program for judges;

Senate-introduced of an urban redevelopment measure similar to the one recently rejected by the house taxation committee.

The judges' pension bill, sponsored by the Hamilton county delegation, mustered just enough votes to clear the senate, 19 to 16, after prolonged debate.

Provides Retirement Plan

It would permit judges of courts of record with 12 years' service to retire after next Jan. 1 at age of 70 on 25 per cent of their average salary for the past six years. Pensions would increase to a maximum of 50 per cent for 18 years or more of service and range from $800 to $6,000 a year.

Judges would contribute 4 per cent of their salaries to a separate pension fund which would be handled by the public employes retirement board.

Defeated were floor amendments to include state legislators in the system, set a $3,600 ceiling on pensions, prevent pensioners from practicing law, and increase contributions from 4 to 7 per cent.

Sen. Fred G. Reinert (R-Hamilton), who presented the measure, said the system was planned to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Special Benefit Charged

Opponents contended the program would cost the state at least $25,000 annually and that was designed to benefit a particular group.

A nine-member commission would be named to acquire a new state fairgrounds site under the bill approved by the house, 82 to 36. Money for the site was expected to be appropriated in the capital improvements measure now pending in the house.

The veterans' bonus program ran into delay when the house stood pat in favoring a senate-rejected amendment calling for an extra cent-a-pack cigaret tax to help finance payments and ordered the legislation sent to a conference committee of senate and house members for compromise.

The house refused to accept senate amendments to a bill setting a flat $10 license fee on pleasure automobiles, and it also headed towards a conference group.

A measure repealing present statutes preventing the state from contracting with the federal government on shore erosion projects passed the house.

Vets' Housing Unit Playground Started

Local industries and a number of individuals have contributed to a playground which will be opened soon at the veterans' housing project near Lincoln park, according to Charles Messenger, superintendent. There are 76 children living in the housing project area, Mr. Messenger said.

Erection of equipment has already started. When completed, the playground will include sand boxes, swings, slides and teeter-

SUITOR KILLS KENTON GIRL AT INDIAN LAKE

Waitress Shot Twice When She Refuses Date; Assailant Faces Murder Charge.

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE, O., May 29—Sheriff Ellsworth M. Palmer said he intended to file first degree murder charges today against 38-year-old Roger (Tug) Williams of near Indian Lake in the slaying late yesterday of a Turkey Foot park waitress.

The Logan county official reported that Williams was mauled severely by patrons of the Lester Newland grocery-restaurant at Turkey Foot immediately after two revolver shots killed Mrs. Martha Rathwell, 25-year-old Kenton blond.

Palmer said that Milton Wilmoth of St. Paris, O., a "chance acquaintance" of Williams, and several other men overpowered him, wrestling a .38 caliber special revolver out of his grasp after the waitress was shot in the chest, and again in the head as she lay on the floor of Newland's barroom.

The sheriff and Coroner A. J. McCracken reported that Williams, who they said admitted the shooting, apparently was miffed because the victim had refused to give him a "date." He used a revolver, they said, which he told them he had seen in Wilmoth's auto while they were driving to Turkey Fot to visit Mrs. Rathwell.

Upon the woman's refusal to go out with him, Williams went to the car, obtained the gun, and returned to the barroom firing point-blank, Palmer quoted Williams and Wilmoth.

Mrs. Rathwell is survived by her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Williams of Kenton, and her husband, Frank Rathwell of Mt. Sterling, Ky.

In Kenton Few Months

According to a report from Kenton she had come there just a few months ago and had been working at the Indian Lake restaurant for approximately three weeks.

Williams was born in New Hampshire, O., and has lived in the vicinity working as a painter and handyman.

He is held in the Logan county jail at Bellefontaine.

Tax and Labor Compromises Agreed Upon

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 29—Senate and house conferees agreed today on final terms of a $4,000,000,000-a-year income tax cut to take effect July 1.

The measure provides for individual slashes ranging from 10.5 per cent to 30 per cent.

The senate bill was accepted by the conferees except for one change in rate reduction brackets.

Bracket Pushed Up

The area of 15 per cent cuts was made effective from $136,720 of taxable income to $302,400.

The senate had provided for a 15 per cent reduction between $70,700 and $302,000.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo), head of the senate conferees, said both houses would expedite final action on the legislation.

It is expected to come up in the house Monday, and possibly later the same day in the senate.

The big question remaining is whether President Truman will sign or veto the tax cuts. He has maintained that the present is not a suitable time for reducing government revenue.

Millikin estimated the change in the 15 per cent reduction bracket will add $62,300,000 to the cost of the bill.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley was the only one of the five senate conferees who did not sign the conference report. He voted against the bill yesterday when it passed the senate 52 to 34.

If both houses act finally Monday the bill will be speeded to the White House.

Final Accord Reached On Labor Curbing Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 29—Congressional conferees on legislation designed to check strikes and labor union activities reached final accord today on a compromise bill.

An agreement to scrap a house provision which would have excluded food processors from collective bargaining rights was the last action taken by the conferees before returning the measure to the house and senate for further action.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters the committee decided to remove this controversial section from the final draft and leave the matter to interpretation by the national labor relations board.

This means it continues a matter of dispute so far as the NLRB and the courts are concerned.

The reported compromise bill was approved by seven of the 10 conferees.

Army Budget For 1948 Cut 8.3 Per Cent

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 29—The Army's 1948 military budget was cut 8.3 per cent by the house appropriations committee today despite testimony from General Eisenhower and Secretary Patterson that "real danger" lies beyond the "irreducible minimum" of men and money they had requested.

If congress upholds the committee, the Army will receive $5,240,982,423 in new appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1. President Truman had asked $5,716,791,500 for the Army's military activities, exclusive of foreign relief and other civil functions to be financed in a later bill. For the current year military activities appropriations totaled $7,263,542,400.

Slash $475,809,077 from Request

The committee thus slashed $475,809,077 from next year's requests and cut $2,022,559,977 below current year funds.

It did, however, approve the Army's full request for $280,000,000 in contract authority to buy new airplanes.

In addition to the budget cuts the committee cancelled $1,100,000,000 of money appropriated for the current and prior years but not spent. The Army concurred in the cancellation. Its finance officers explained that (A) the money was not included in the 1948 budget and (B) was no longer needed for the purposes for which it originally was appropriated.

The committee did not claim the cancelled $1,100,000,000 as a saving in its goal to cut $6,000,000,000 from the President's overall $37,500,000,000 budget for next year but said the money, if not rescinded, might be spent. By the committee's action, the unobligated funds revert to the treasury's general fund.

2 Billion Cut to Date

The claimed budget cuts to date, including the $475,809,077 in the Army bill, approximating $3,150,000,000. The committee insisted that its cuts would leave adequate funds for an Army of 1,070,000 to perform the missions assigned to it."

More than half—$293,938,216—of the total recommended reduction was leveled at war department civilian and officer personnel.

The committee recommended cuts which it said would reduce civilian jobholders by 74,631 and officer personnel by 20,100, including 2,000 warrant officers. It also ordered a reduction in flying pay for air corps personnel without specifying how the cut should be applied.

No reductions were recommended in the number of enlisted men, nurses, dietitians, physiotherapists or research and development employes.

Officers Excessive

The committee said it believes the Army's request for funds to retain 146,000 officers "is excessive."

The committee said the Army's 1948 budget estimates contemplate 13.5 per cent officer personnel, or almost 3 per cent above the wartime peak.

The committee took this action on:

Research and development: approved the entire $222,216,400 requested.

Industrial mobilization: recommended $23,809,500 for a program of planning to speed up the conversion of industry to wartime status in short order if necessary. This is a reduction of approximately $2,645,000.

Since Feb. 17 the committee has been studying the war department's budget requests and during that time heard hundreds of witnesses whose testimony when printed filled more than 1,600 pages.

Principal witnesses included Secretary Patterson and Generals Eisenhower, J. L. Devers and Carl Spaatz.

U. S. Defenses Seen in Arctic

Gen. Spaatz Says Attack in Next War Bound To Come from North.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 29—The Army believes that if there is another war its main defenses must be "on the Arctic frontier."

Without naming any possible aggressor, Gen. Carl Spaatz, commanding general of the Army Air Forces, told the house appropriations committee during hearings on the 1948 military supply bill sent to the house floor today:

"As we fabricated this budget * * * we had continually mind the concept of the Arctic frontier, while none of us, of course, knows when war may come, we can with reasonable assurance tell from whence it will come.

"Wars of a scale or magnitude adversely to affect the United States must be compounded of two primary elements—a large population which may become warlike, and a vast industrial resource for the production of weapons.

Southern Hemisphere Out

"Reference to a globe representing the earth's surface will show at once that the Southern Hemisphere may be dismissed. There are no vast populations there and there is no great industrial capacity south of the equator.

"There are three possible areas in the Northern Hemisphere where these two conditions do exist.

"The first is in western Europe where both the First and Second World Wars originated.

"The second is in eastern Eurasia and the nearby islands of the western Pacific whence the Japanese jumped off the last time.

Immediate Attack Certain

43 War Plants Held by Army For Emergencies

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 29—The War department, as part of an industrial mobilization plan, intends to keep 43 of its war plants in standby status for quick use in the event of a national emergency.

Undersecretary of War Kenneth C. Royall told the house subcommittee in charge of war department appropriations that the Army hopes to retain title to 29 ordnance plants, 13 chemical plants and one quartermaster corps station.

These plants, according to the printed record of the hearings made public today, are government-owned establishments designed primarily for the production of military goods.

The 43 standby plants include:

Ordnance:

Ravenna Arsenal (Ravenna ordnance plant), Apco, Ohio;

Chemical corps:

Rabus Plant, Columbus, Ohio;

Another group of establishments are the arsenals and other industrial installations which the government will operate in order to keep abreast of ordnance and other developments. These include: Erie proving ground, Lorraine, O. (ordnance) and Lima Ordnance Depot, Lima, O. (ordnance).

Not Just Horses Wear Shoes in Arkansas

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 29—Arkansas—yep, you still pronounce it "arkansaw"—is just plain getting country-tired of being kidded as a hillbilly state.

The folks down this way have taken a lot of joshing about living on a barren ridgeland populated by flea-bitten hound dogs, tick-ridden mules, razorback hogs and rangy moonshine - swilling mountaineers who subsist on hominy grits and salt pork and marry off their barefoot daughters at the age of seven years.

Hal Boyle

But the long tolerance of the Arkansans is wearing thin, and their home state pride is high. They think somebody ought to bring the radio comedians and the Joe Miller joke books up to date on just what is going on in Arkansas.

"Why when we wanted a razorback hog as a mascot for our state university football team we had to send out of the state to get him," snorted one incensed native son. "We don't grow that kind of animal here anymore."

How're Things in Arkansas?

So let's see just what is going on in Arkansas, which always liked its nickname of "The Wonder State" but now prefers to regard itself as "The Land of Tomorrow."

The state is 53,102 square miles in area, as large as Pennsylvania and New Jersey combined, and has a population of almost 2,000,000. The per capita income rose by 108.3 per cent from 1939 to 1942, almost double the 58.1 rise averaged throughout the United States.

Agriculture is breaking away from the old ruinous "one crop" system. Cotton is still the main income producer—Arkansas stands third among the states in its production—but it also ranks second in strawberries, fourth in rice, fifth in peaches and third in spinach for processing. It also ranks high with a dozen other crops.

If you think of the Arkansan as a gangling pellagra-sapped Jeeter Lester, think again. Deaths from pellagra dropped from 26.4 per 100,000 population in 1930 to 2.9 in 1944. A U. S. census report showed Arkansas had the fewest number of deaths per thousand population of any state in the union. It's healthy.

$70,000,000 Spent

Tourists spend $70,000,000 a year or more in Arkansas—and they don't come to watch the mountaineers scratch themselves. Some 500,000 alone come to Hot Springs to bake out the rheumatism they got in another climate.

Others come to fish and hunt in one of the best developed recreation centers in the country. The state has 22,000,000 acres of forested land and a $125,000,000 a year lumbering industry—eighth largest in America.

A few other things Arkansans are proud of about their state:

It produces 95 per cent of all the domestic bauxite or aluminum ore processed in the states.

Only U. S. Diamond Field

It has the only diamond fields in America—although there are still fewer than can be found on Park avenue.

It has a reserve of 1,512,000,000 tons of coal, and natural gas and oil production is booming. Power rates are among the lowest in the nation.

The new Norfork dam, sixth largest in the country, has a 500-mile forest shoreline.

Its bank deposits jumped from $200,817,000 in 1939 to $768,348,000 in 1945.

Its population is 99.4 per cent native-born—73.6 per cent white, 25.8 per cent Negro.

It has 500 high schools, nine state-supported coeducational institutions of higher learning and more than a half dozen private colleges.

It is the birthplace of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

One Arkansas asset its supporters don't usually mention is the state's friendly hospitality. This assures any stranger a welcome except the visitor who starts off by remarking:

"I thought only horses wore shoes down here."

That kind of talk is downright unpopular now in Arkansas.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Stomach Pain

Every now and then the physician will be called on to attend a middle-aged person who has suddenly been stricken with a pain of terrific intensity in the pit of the stomach.

If this is accompanied by a rapid, feeble pulse, swelling of the bowel, tenderness over the abdomen, rapid breathing, vomiting, a below-normal temperature and, above all, by cyanosis or blueness of the lips, the doctor will keep in mind that he may have a case of acute pancreatitis to deal with.

This condition results when the pancreas, a gland within the abdomen concerned in the digestion of sugars and starches, becomes severely inflamed. It constitutes one of the gravest emergencies. Sometimes it may be so severe as to prove fatal within an hour but in the majority of cases, proper treatment will forestall death and bring about recovery.

Men are more often stricken than women. Those who develop it are likely to be somewhat overweight and to have high blood pressure. The most important factor relating to the development of this condition seems to be gallstones. According to Dr. John Morley of Manchester, England, gallstones are present in 60 per cent or more of those who suffer from acute pancreatitis.

Acute pancreatitis is not an easy condition to diagnose because there are so many other troubles which give similar, though not identical, symptoms. These include gallbladder inflammation, the enlarging or breaking through the wall of the stomach of an ulcer, blocking of the passageway through the small intestine, and even coronary thrombosis, that is the formation of a blood clot in one of the arteries which supply the heart muscle with blood.

However, there is a laboratory test which may be helpful. This consists in determining the amount of amylase present in the blood and urine. Amylase is an enzyme and is a substance which aids in the digestion of starchy foods. If the amount is increased above normal, then it suggests the presence of acute pancreatitis.

Formerly it was the practice to treat acute pancreatitis by operation, that is opening the abdomen and draining the pancreas. Today, however, it seems generally agreed that such operation is of little, if any, value in most cases. As a rule a different type of treatment will be more successful. The patient, of course, is put to bed at complete rest, and fluids are given by injection into a vein continually. A salt solution or a fluid part of the blood known as plasma may be employed. It is suggested that the giving of sugar solution, such as glucose, may be dangerous.

Since gallstones seem to be the most important factor in producing acute pancreatitis, it would appear important that gallstones be recognized when they are present and that they be removed by means of surgical operation.

Deaths at Mt. Vernon Ruled Murder, Suicide

By The Associated Press

MT. VERNON, O., May 29—Coroner C. L. Harmer of Knox county ruled yesterday that Floyd Borden, 50-year-old machinist, killed his wife, Marcella, 51, and then turned a gun on himself.

Bodies of the couple, lying hand-in-hand, were found on a floor in their home.

Police said apparently Borden first shot his wife with a .32 caliber revolver and then fatally shot himself after a struggle for the gun.

Why the Railroads Can't Afford NOT to Modernize!

A Dollars-and-cents Example That Will Interest Travelers, Labor and Investors

FOR a long time the C & O has been saying that America's railroads must modernize their passenger equipment—or forfeit a great opportunity.

In print and in private we have lampooned the "rolling tenements" that still pass for sleeping cars. We have stumped for modern streamlined trains to replace tired, creaking old day coaches. And over and over we have stated the conviction that, given attractive equipment, and new comforts and services, the railroads could open the door on a new era of travel.

As an earnest of that conviction the C&O is replacing every old sleeping car, day coach and diner, on all our main lines, with modern streamlined cars. The orders have all been placed. If every railroad were doing as much, there would now be 21,000 new passenger cars on order instead of a mere 3000.

But Is It Practical?

The standpatters in the industry are still shaking their heads. And lately more reasonable people have been asking, "How can the large-scale replacement of old trains be practical?"

They point out that several of our largest systems had serious deficits in 1946. And everyone knows that the railroads are caught between rocketing costs and lagging rates. "How," they ask, "can such an industry afford large outlays for new equipment?"

The answer is that the railroads can't afford not to make these outlays. And here is a dollars-and-cents example:

The Investment That Is Fast Returning Its Cost

Last August one of the C&O lines, the Pere Marquette, installed two ultra-modern trains on its run between Detroit and Grand Rapids. These new daytime streamliners were the last word in passenger attractiveness.

Since they have been in operation the new trains have carried 86% more passengers than old trains carried over the same route during the same period of the previous year—when traffic was still swollen by war emergencies.

And here is the proof of the pudding: In less than 4 years, at the present rate, the increase in passenger receipts will equal the total cost of the trains!

Which will it be—modernization or continued deficits?

Modern equipment is not a luxury that only a few fortunate systems, like the C&O, can afford. Even a bankrupt railroad can borrow money today to buy such equipment at 2% interest. Since that is the fact, it is almost incredible that less than 100 new passenger cars have been ordered this year!

Which Way Do We Go?

To investors, the labor brotherhoods and the traveling public, the C&O repeats its conviction—that our railroads face one of the most critical choices in their history.

If pessimist thinking, old-line practices and Toonerville equipment continue to be tolerated, then, regardless of rate relief, further deficits and bankruptcies are certain.

But, if, on the other hand, these liabilities are replaced by modern ideas and modern trains, our railroads can again be a credit to our country. They can also be a bulwark of our national defense, which, as every citizen knows, depends on a flourishing transportation system.

Only in Certain Cases Can FBI Move In On Lynching Affairs

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, May 29—Lynching is murder under state laws but there's no federal law against lynching.

So how can the FBI, a federal agency whose job is to investigate violations of federal laws, investigate lynching.

Here's an explanation.

The U. S. constitution says no state shall deprive a person of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

James Marlow

So, before a state can take away a man's property or take his life by executing him, he must be given a fair trial.

If a man is taken into custody or locked up, pending trial, it's the state's duty to see he is unharmed while he's in custody or jail.

When a man is lynched, the FBI's first question is: did the state do all it could to protect him before the lynch mob got him?

And—

Did a jailer or sheriff or policeman, representing the state, try to protect the prisoner? Or did they conspire with the lynch mob?

If it's just a lynching by a mob, with no state officer involved, that's just murder under state law. The FBI can't bring charges.

It can't bring charges because, as noted, there's no federal law making lynching of itself a crime.

But the FBI can act if a state officer—like jailer or sheriff—in any way conspired with a mob bent on lynching a prisoner.

Conspiracy Federal Crime

The FBI can act in such a case, and bring certain charges, because there are federal laws backing up the constitution.

Briefly, those laws make it a crime:

For a state official of any kind to conspire with anyone to deprive a man of his rights under the constitution.

The penalties under these federal laws run from 1 to 10 years in jail and fines of $1,000 to $5,000.

The FBI—as soon as it learns of a lynching—can move right in, always on the theory that maybe a state officer was involved.

If it investigates and finds it can take no action under federal law—because no state officer was involved—the FBI can do this:

It can turn over to state authorities, for action under state laws, whatever information it has been able to pick up.

31 Charged Recently

Recently 31 white men in Greenville, S. C., were charged in a state court with lynching a Negro.

The FBI found no violation of federal law, so it turned its information over to the state. The men were acquitted.

This week again in South Carolina the FBI provided officials with information on which seven white men were charged with kidnapping a Negro.

In this case the FBI moved in as soon as it heard reports a Negro had been taken from jail. He escaped the mob.

The FBI's work on lynchings has been under way only since about 1940.

In 1939 a special section on civil rights was set up in the justice department.

It took the government attorneys about a year, after studying the law, to decide how they could move to stop lynchings.

They decided to use the federal laws, mentioned here, as the wedge for the FBI's work.

Nazi General Awaiting Trial Commits Suicide

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Germany, May 29—Gen. Franz Boehme, indicted for war crimes allegedly committed during the German occupation of Yugoslavia, died early today of a skull fracture suffered in a suicide leap in Nuernberg prison.

Boehme eluded guards while walking in a corridor in a third-floor tier of cells late last night and hurtled over a rail. His fall was broken by a catwalk two tiers below.

SPRING FROST WARNING NOTED

Mass of Cold Air Moving on Midwest Already Plagued by Rains.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 29—Field work in the nation's corn belt, already long delayed by spring rains, was near a standstill today because of rain, snow and sleet and farmers were warned a late spring frost may sweep across sections of the midwest tomorrow.

A mass of cold air from the Mackenzie basin in Canada extended over the area and temperatures dropped to near freezing in many sections and below 32 degrees in parts of the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Snow fell to a depth of 12 inches in Nebraska, to more than five inches in Wyoming and measured four inches in Iowa. Snow and sleet also swept over parts of Colorado, Minnesota, South Dakota and Wisconsin. The lowest temperature in the cold belt yesterday was 15 above at Eckman, N. D.

In San Jose, Calif., orchardists said that a helicopter which flew at almost treetop altitude saved a $258,000 cherry crop from heavy damage in the wake of a rain. They said the helicopter's downdraft blew raindrops from the fruit, which would have swollen, if left wet, and burst under a hot sun.

In the corn belt, work in the fields was further delayed by rains and snow, with virtually no planting of corn the last week in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin, Kansas, Iowa, Michigan and Nebraska. Soy bean planting, which usually follows corn, was reported far behind.

In Iowa, the "corn state," 76 per cent of the corn acreage has been planted, while Kansas and Nebraska reported about 70 per cent. In Illinois, however, the amount planted was listed at 33 per cent; about 25 per cent in Wisconsin; 10 per cent in Indiana and seven per cent in Michigan. No estimate was made for Ohio.

Prop Busters Vote On Emblem for Club

A club emblem was voted on by members of the Marion Prop Busters club at a meeting Tuesday night with Bill Tsumpes on Franklin street. The emblem, designed and drawn by Tsumpes, assisted by Dick Blank, will be printed on shirts for the members.

An announcement was made that transportation has been arranged for the members to go to Findlay June 8 to participate in the contest being sponsored by the Findlay Co-operative Model club at McComb, O., airport, ten miles north of Findlay. Several club members and a delegation of the Y's Men's club, which sponsors the local club, are planning to attend the event. The Y's Men's delegation is attending to learn how an event is conducted as the club is sponsoring a local contest Sept. 14.

High point members this year up to the present time are Robert Parshall, first, Fred Schatzinger, second, and Bill Tsumpes, third. At the end of the summer flying season, prizes will be awarded to the high point men.

Music Group Elects Officers at Meeting

When the Harding High school Band and Orchestra Parent association held election of officers Monday night at the school, C. E. Dougherty was chosen president. J. G. Lytle was selected first vice president; Mrs. Ralph Wright, second vice president; Mrs. Ralph Wingett, secretary; Harry Kaelber, treasurer; Mrs. C. G. Musgrave, membership chairman; and John Lacey, Mrs. W. P. Wanner, Leonard Bechtel, Mrs. R. Evans and Homer Huffman, directors. Mr. Huffman was in charge of a program which included trombone solo, Fred Hall, accompanied by his father, Ira Hall; and trumpet solo, Bob Wingett, accompanied by Alan Cleveland. Plans were made for the annual band and orchestra picnic for parents and guests of two music groups, June 7, at Meadow Brook park west of Tiffin. It was announced that those attending are to meet at the school at 12:30 p. m. that day, and transportation will be provided.

SEAWAY PROJECT WINS ARMY PRAISE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 29—Under-secretary of War Kenneth P. Royall said today a proposed St. Lawrence seaway would give "easy access" to possible bases in Newfoundland and Greenland and reduce the submarine hazard in case of war.

The Army's position, he told a senate foreign relations subcommittee considering the project, is that it is "not vital to national defense" but would be "helpful to national defense."

He said points in favor of the $2 billion dollar development include:

1. It would provide a large additional source of electric power in the Great Lakes and adjacent regions.

2. This would "lend to increase America's overall industrial potential" and "it is perfectly possible that we would need its potential in another all-out conflict."

3. As a route to Europe it would be "1,200 miles less ocean distance, thereby minimizing to some extent the risk and danger of submarine and other attack."

4. Increased use of water transportation and of waterpower as a substitute for coal-burning steam plants would "relieve the threat of a rail bottleneck in event of a future war."

Royall said the Army does not agree with opponents of the seaway who say it would make an invasion of this country easier.

Youth Waits in Jail As Four Victims Buried

By The Associated Press

LAPEER, Mich., May 29—Oliver Terpening Jr., a confused 16-year-old farm youth, waited in his Lapeer county jail cell today for his next court appearance in the flower-patch murder of four playmates.

Twenty miles away, at little Imlay City, the grief-stricken family of 67-year-old farmer William Smith readied for burial the bodies of Barbara, 16; Stanley, 14; Gladys, 12 and Janet, 2.

Funeral services were scheduled today for Stanley, the farm lad who was young Terpening's best friend, and his three sisters, all shot down with a .22 calibre rifle as the girls picked spring flowers Monday.

The four white coffins, viewed yesterday by 2,000 visitors to the funeral home where they were taken, were to be placed in one large grave in the Imlay City cemetery.

California Heiress' Murder Jury Picked

By The Associated Press

Special Prosecutor Eugene D. Williams examined in 90 minutes yesterday 11 of the 12 jurors who had previously been passed for cause by lawyers for both defendants. The clock ran out on him or he probably would have tentatively accepted the twelfth.

KENTON VETERAN SHOT IN SCUFFLE

Special to The Star

KENTON, Nov. 29—Raymond Ridgeway, 24-year-old Navy veteran, was shot in the shoulder in a scuffle with his father, Otis Ridgeway, 63, about 6 p. m. last night, according to police records here. The bullet from a foreign-make weapon, the equivalent of an American 22-calibre revolver, struck the young man in his armpit and lodged in his shoulder. His condition is not serious and he was up and about today.

The elder Ridgeway, who made his home with his son, was removed to the city jail and was to be arraigned in Mayor Leroy Hoppe's court this afternoon, on charges, police said, to be filed by the son.

The gun was a souvenir picked up by the veteran in the South Pacific.

G.O.P.'S ECONOMY DRIVE KEEPS ROLLING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 29—The Republican congressional economy drive was still rolling along today, but it was beginning to develop some squeaks.

By a slim six-vote margin, and only after a $40,000,000 compromise, the G.O.P. leadership shoved an $847,601,976 agricultural department appropriation bill for 1948 through the house last night and over to the senate.

This brought to slightly over $2,610,000,000 the claimed savings in the house drive to cut $6,000,000,000 from the President's budget for the year starting July 1.

With only five more 1948 supply bills to be handled, there were signs that the going may be tough if the coal is to be reached.

For the bills which make up the balance of the President's overall $37,500,000,000 spending estimate are for local rivers and harbors projects and the veterans' administration, in addition to the war department and some assorted federal agencies.

The appropriations committee may have trouble keeping Republicans in line when it comes to cutting funds for veterans and rivers-harbors projects.

"We can divine, therefore, that if our defenses are to be between us and the enemy they must be on the Arctic frontier. Likewise, if our own weapons are to move to the war chests of the enemy they must follow the same courses and have the range, the speed and the characteristics to follow the same pathways to the war—making potential of the enemy."

Back Up Spaatz

Other Army officers backed up the war department's requests for funds to finance large-scale maneuvers in the Arctic regions and to develop missiles that will travel through the upper air at 3,000 miles an hour.

Spaatz told the committee that, regardless of where the next war comes from, "hostile shots will most certainly be fired on the United States" and air attacks, either by heavy bombers or guided missiles, "will hit the United States and do terrific damage."

U. S., BRITAIN BLOCK RUSS MOVE IN ATOMIC UN TALK

West Determined To Sew Up Loop Holes for Atom Violators.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, May 29—The United States and Britain, determined to prevent any country or individual from escaping United Nations punishment for atomic crimes, stood united today in opposition to a Soviet proposal which would put atomic energy controls within reach of the security council's veto.

The two western powers, backed by Canada, made plain their stand during a closed meeting of the working committee of the UN atomic energy commission.

The committee is specifically considering 12 amendments submitted by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to the commission's first report adopted last December.

Gromyko insisted yesterday that his proposal to place atomic control organs within the jurisdiction of the security council was in line with a UN general assembly resolution on arms and atomic control.

Labor Party Backs Bevin

Huge Vote of Confidence Is Given Britain's Foreign Minister.

By The Associated Press

MARGATE, ENGLAND, May 29—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin won an almost unanimous vote of confidence on his administration of British foreign affairs from the Labor party's annual conference today.

Scarcely more than a score of the 1,200 delegates voted for resolutions critical of Bevin's foreign policy. The vote was by a show of hands and no official count was taken.

The endorsement followed a 90-minute speech in which Bevin accused left-wing labor members in important discussions with the United States government.

"The day I was driving a good agreement with America to keep the bread ration from going down was the day I was stabbed in the back by the house (of commons)" Bevin declared.

He did not specify what house action he referred to or the date.

Discussing world affairs, Bevin declared world peace depended upon solution of Asia's problems, and proposed that the 11 nations which were at war with Japan should take part in drawing up the Japanese treaty.

Bevin told the party that the methods adopted at Potsdam for he treaties with Germany and her satellites—conferences of four or five foreign ministers—"will not be satisfactory in the settlement with Japan."

"I take the view," he said, "that if those 11 countries should take part, it will help us to deal with the peace treaty with Japan much quicker."

Warning against too much preoccupation with European problems, Bevin declared "Korea is a very grave danger spot—as dangerous in the Far East as anything in Europe." He added that future world peace would "depend to a very large extent upon the solution of the Indian problem."

Bucyrus and Kenton Licenses Are Revoked

Robert Andreini of Bucyrus, operator of Bianchi's beer and wine store, and the Fraternal Order of Eagles, No. 2163 of Kenton were among those whose liquor licenses were revoked today by the state liquor board according to an Associated Press report from Columbus.

The permit for the Bucyrus store was suspended for 30 days with the imposition of the sentence withheld pending future good behavior. Andreini, who holds a carry-out beer and wine permit, was charged with having gambling devices. The 30-day suspension of the Eagles' private club permit, was charged with having gambling devices. The 30-day suspension of the Eagles' private club permit was given to the club on complaint of exhibiting slot machines.

OHIO FARMERS ADVISED TO STILL PLANT CORN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 29—The director of the Ohio State university agriculture extension service advised Ohio farmers today to stick to plans to plant corn despite continuing rains which are keeping fields waterlogged.

"Corn planted in Ohio up to June 25 for grain and until July 1 for silage probably will produce more feed for more than any available substitute grain crop," declared H. C. Ramstower in a letter to county agents.

"The chances are even that you will get better than [illegible] June 20 to 25," the letter continued.

But, the more practical [illegible] chances [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Death and Taxes

REPUBLICANS in congress intend to reduce wartime taxes. So do Democrats. All they're bickering about is who should get the credit. Unfortunately, some taxpayers have misunderstood what is going on and persuaded themselves that taxes shouldn't be reduced at all, but kept where they are.

The misguided taxpayers' muddled reasoning seems to be that death and taxes are inevitable, therefore a patriot should yield to them with enthusiasm, or at the very least with cheerful resignation. There apparently is no way to change their minds about this. Events will do that later. Tax rates are not theoretical, but bear close relation to the taxpayers' ability to bear them.

The war boom is over. Congress is making its guesses on the leaner shape of things to come. The treasury department is guessing; everybody is guessing. Republicans and Democrats are guessing. Only one thing is certain to be the way they are saying it will be: money will be harder to get hold of than it was when close to half the population was breaking all income records.

Tax rates on any basis other than outright confiscation to destroy taxpayers will have to be tempered to the shorn taxpayers. The only question is how much. No one trying to make a reasonable guess about the events of the next year thinks there is any possibility that congress will reduce taxes too much. Taxpayers will be surprised if congress manages to cut them enough to keep pace with declining ability to pay.

This Could Be It

PHILIP MURRAY'S two-year ban on steel strikes could open the door to America's great opportunities in the second half of the 20th century.

If he and the directors of the United Steel Workers mean what they've said, all of them have caught the vision of what this country could be if spared the handicap of class warfare in industry.

When Mr. Murray speaks of "labor-management cooperation" and the sanctity of contracts, he is talking about the terms on which America's potential strength could become its actual strength.

He is talking about a concept of industrialism infinitely higher than the dismal European commitment to class warfare. He is looking backward to the statesmanship of Samuel Gompers, who preached that labor unions in America should exist for only one purpose—to improve labor's standard of living—not to foment friction in the hope of establishing a working-class dictatorship.

Mr. Murray is implying that union-reform legislation pending in congress, insofar as it aims to reduce strikes, has a valid reason for being. He, too, is aiming to reduce strikes, by the self-discipline of unionists, without waiting for legal restrictions.

He does not know whether he can enforce his decision, nor whether the members of his union will cooperate. He has no guarantee that his gesture will be accepted at face value in the steel industry. But he has faith, or he wouldn't have come out on a limb with his ban on strikes. He deserves credit for his faith.

We do not need to bicker over the terms on which work will be performed in this country. We do not need to waste energy grappling with each other. We do not need to exhaust ourselves in the suicidal task of discrediting our own beliefs. Most of the quarrels transplanted here from abroad are in an unnatural climate. In America, it is natural for men to cooperate in industry as it is for them to cooperate in any other field. The fact is, they have cooperated in the past and can cooperate in the future, if permitted to come together for their mutual advantage.

Mr. Murray has set an example. He has set an example for those employers who are carrying on class warfare more energetically than the hottest of the union red-hots. He has spoken frankly of mutual responsibility for stabilization of the postwar economy—and mutual means both ways.

We may be exaggerating the importance of Mr. Murray's ban, though that would be impossible if it proved to be the means of ushering in an era of industrial peace in the United States.

Stassen's 10 Per Cent Plan

By RAYMOND MOLEY

He Keeps Promise To Discuss Real Issues.

HAROLD STASSEN is not only the one avowed presidential candidate, but he is the only prospect who is putting forth a program. Other prospects, excepting Taft, are following the old political prescription which calls for wary generalities and a close watch on the Gallup poll. Caution of that kind may be good for candidates, but isn't good for the country. The country ought to know what the candidates mean to do about the troubles which are with us and ahead of us.

Stassen is probably well aware of the fact that frankness may injure his chances. But he promised, over a year ago, to discuss real issues. And his new proposal that the United States earmark 10 per cent of its production for export will arouse lively opposition.

His idea, however, is not as revolutionary as it appears. In any event, it is not at all unlikely that 10 per cent of our annual production of wealth will go abroad in one form or another. The dollar value of such exports would, on the basis of current business volume, be something over $15,000,000,000.

Not All from Uncle Sam

It must be noted that Stassen did not suggest that the United States government lend or give any such amount. Government lending and giving would constitute only part of the total. Some of it would be private lending, which is likely to be considerable in years to come. Some would be in normal trade, and there would be large amounts of normal imports as an offset.

It is not unlikely that when we finish the present year our total loans, gifts and commitments will not be far from Stassen's figure. And if, as the Truman Doctrine implies, we are to continue helping everywhere we shall be exporting a similar amount for years.

Stassen suggests but does not specify the same point made by Bernard Baruch months ago—namely, that we make an inventory of what we have and what we can produce before we commit ourselves. Baruch also said that we should, in every case, call on the beneficiary countries for some return. "What have you got to give us?" is the way Baruch puts it. If that means raw materials, we should acquire them in trade. If it means commercial advantage, we should expect that.

Difficult Proposal

Stassen also suggests that beneficiary countries should agree not to "move farther away from individual economic freedom and go down the sad trail of increasing nationalization or socialization or government ownership." It will be hard to get any such agreement, because no governments, including England and France, can make such guarantees and live up to them. Socialization is increasing in Europe. But with a restoration of standards of living and well-being, the march of socialization may be slowed down or halted. At least, this is what Stassen hopes will result.

Stassen suggests, further, that our export program should be administered in such a way as to make certain that the needs we are to meet are real and that our benefactions shall not be diverted. This implies a degree of control over foreign trade contrary to our older capitalist economy. But in a world in which practically every nation now exercises such control and in a situation in which there is a mixture of giving, lending and selling, it is hard to see how we can avoid some such control. Our purpose should be to avoid the extension of government controls to the processes of production here at home. In helping the world we should not socialize ourselves.

TRYING to appraise the influence of any one invention or development is impossible because of the complication of other factors. So the effect of rural free delivery, just 50 years old in the United States, can not be estimated. We must content ourselves by saying that RFD has tremendously affected life in the U. S. and that the delivery methods themselves have been greatly changed by developments of the last half century.

Rural delivery started as an experiment in eastern West Virginia in the fall of 1896. There were five routes — four by horseback and one by bicycle. Each carrier received only $200 a year, so peddling was the main part of the job, with mail delivery a sideline.

Those who foresaw rural ruination if farmers dallied over morning papers and stopped gathering at the country postoffices could not hold back the movement. By the 30th of June, 1897, there were 82 routes covering 1843 miles in 29 of our United States.

Then began the battle of the mud. Horse and buggy delivery reached its greatest extent in 1912 with just over a million miles of routes. Rural mail carriers were early and ardent advocates of good roads, and as the highways were improved motor vehicles came into use and routes were consolidated. The number of carriers was greatest in 1915 when there were 45,877. Now there are only 32,161, but the number of miles covered is nearly a million and a half and the average length of route is 44.31 miles. The service costs about 5 cents per day for each of the nearly 8 million families served.—O. S. U. Science and Appliance.

Just Say "Joe Sent Me"

By PHILIP CARDEN

PRESIDENTIAL Aspirant Harold E. Stassen has joined the parade of Men Who Talked to Stalin Again. Stalin's remarks are quoted in the American press. Again the remarks fail to get down to cases.

The American reader wonders why none of the questioners ever sees fit to ask what everybody is wondering about. Questions and answers seem always to be based on the assumption that Stalin is an observer, rather than a prime mover of Soviet policy and action.

One of Premier Stalin's points in his conversation with Mr. Stassen was that "calling each other names and indulging in propaganda will not lead to cooperation." Why didn't Mr. Stassen then ask why the premier allows Ilya Ehrenberg to indulge in name calling in official Soviet publications.

When Stalin uses double-talk about cooperation, the American reader feels, it is a beautiful opening for a question: "By the way, when you say 'cooperation,' do you mean the United States should do everything the way you want it done?"

Instead of to-the-point stuff of this kind, Roy W. Howard, Hugh Baillie, Joseph E. Davis, Wendell L. Willkie, Elliott Roosevelt, Stassen et al — the Men Who Talked to Stalin — have come back to the United States bearing only the information which Josef Stalin, successor to the czars wants the United States to hear. The magic password to America's front pages is still "Joe sent me."

Judge Rules By Close Shave

By The Associated Press

LINCOLN, Neb. — Justice E. B. Chappell of the Nebraska supreme court, a democratic man, has had one of his fondest hopes realized.

He passed the state barber's examination and was given his formal certificate authorizing him to practice the trade.

Judge Chappell explained he worked his way through the University of Nebraska at the barber's trade and wanted the barber's license for sentimental reasons.

Soviet Finds Water Under Eternal Frost

By The Associated Press

LONDON—Residents in the Soviet arctic city of Yakutsk, which is situated 62 degrees north, get their drinking water from under the 720-foot deep layer of eternally frozen ground, says a Tass report.

Drinking water is a complicated problem due to the extremely scanty rainfall.

The Institute for the Study of Eternally Frozen Soil, founded 15 years ago under the USSR Academy of Sciences, came to the conclusion that in the vicinity of Yakutsk there was ample water under the frozen ground layer.

Last year a 1640-foot deep well was drilled and more than sufficient good drinking water was found to meet the requirements of the city.

Daily Bible Thought

The world has had nearly two thousand years in which to make room for its Saviour. Make room for Him in your heart, in your life: "She wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn."—Luke 2:7.

IN THE DARK

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, May 29, 1937.

Whistles of factories, steamboats and locomotives blared to herald the opening of the Great Lakes exposition's revamped 1937 edition at Cleveland: James Roosevelt cut the ribbon for the official opening ceremonies at the main gates.

Emanuel W. Schreck, 73, retired Erie railroad engineer, died at his home on Bellefontaine avenue.

Formal opening of the Wilson Furniture Co. on East Center street, operated by David R. Livingston, was held.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dwight H. Scranton of East Church street.

Approximately $350 was netted in the poppy sale sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to Bird-McGinnis Post, No. 162, American Legion.

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Ruth Spicer, a teacher at the Oakland Heights school, to Oscar Lepp of Mt. Gilead, was made at a dinner given by Miss Spicer's nieces, Misses Verna and Garnet Thomasson. The wedding was to take place June 25.

Approximately 60 persons visited the office of Clerk of Courts Carl F. Haberman to obtain new 50-cent fishing licenses required for all types of fishing under a new state law which was to become effective that night at midnight. Total sales numbered 110.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, May 29, 1927.

Members of D company motored to Pleasant Hill cemetery in Big Island where short memorial services were held and the graves of all veterans of the Revolutionary war, War of 1812, Mexican war, Spanish American war and World war were decorated.

A company of relatives and friends, including members of Grand Prairie Grange, were guests at a dinner given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Risch on the Pleasant Hill pike in celebration of Mr. Risch's birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berry of Davids street entertained a company of friends at a week-end party at their Russell Point cottage, "Rest Well."

A recognition service was held at Trinity Baptist church honoring members of the Sunday school, who were to graduate from Harding High school, June 3. They were Clara Gillen, Thelma Harden, Mildred McKeever, Josephine Hinamon, Freda Holland, Marion Holland, Nellie Hinklin, Marie Seiter, Mable Lee, Robert Uncapher, Robert Merchant, and Walter Merchant.

The Marion Athletics met their first defeat of the season when Toledo was victorious at Lincoln park 10-6. Main and Reese, pitching for Marion, allowed only eight hits but had poor support, seven errors being chalked up against the team.

Europe Must Help Bear Load

By WALTER LIPPMANN

WHILE there is wide and increasing recognition that large economic measures will have to be taken by next winter to avert a collapse in Europe, it cannot be said too often or too insistently that it is not possible to plan them, or put them into effect, from Washington alone.

For the question is by no means only whether congress and the people will be willing to appropriate large sums. It is also whether the leading countries of Europe, beginning with Britain and France, can and will make Europe capable of receiving and using large sums effectively.

There is, it seems to me, a disposition in Europe to assume that all depends on whether congress will provide the money. But the fact is that congress is likely to provide the money only if, when, and because the European countries have themselves come together to take convincing measures to help themselves. Then our people will feel that they are investing in the future, and not merely handing out doles, that they are providing working capital for a reorganized European economy and not merely paying the bills of bankrupt governments.

Call the Tune

There is also a disturbing tendency here to assume that a European plan of recovery can be made in America. Mr. Stassen's otherwise excellent speech seemed to me to reflect much too strongly the notion that with immense funds to dispense, we would be paying the piper and could on the whole call the tune. We shall do far better to tell our European friends and allies at the outset that we wish to help them if they will agree on a common plan of recovery: that we can help them substantially only if they do agree: that the fact that they agree to collaborate will be infinitely more important than that their agreement meet exactly specifications which we might wish them to meet; in short, that a plan which unites the leading countries of Europe will find sympathy and practical support here.

The planning in the State department cannot be carried to its conclusion until Europe, with Britain and France taking the initiative and the leadership, begins to plan and to negotiate for its own recovery. Such a European plan will show a dollar deficit over a period of years. Our people can be persuaded to meet that dollar deficit if the European plan shows how and when the need of American grants-in-aid will no longer exist.

Cooperation Needed

We can, in other words, make plans here to underwrite a European plan that most of the countries of the continent have agreed to and are bound by. But we cannot make plans here for European recovery and then offer to buy European acceptance of an American plan. Unless the plan is in truth European, it will not work. An American plan for Europe could not work. Any suggestion that we were imposing our plan would cause more trouble than money could ever cure. So we must wait until London and Paris begin to move, and get ready to meet us half way. They, with plans and agreements for the recovery of Europe so that it ceases to be so abnormally dependent on North America; we, with the working capital out of American public funds for the first phase of the plan, until normal foreign investment becomes feasible.

In the first phase, the operation on our side would have many resemblances to lend-lease. That is to say, we would be exporting goods, not against dollars, but against contributions to the security of this country and its vital interest in peace.

Under wartime lend-lease we got in return for our material contribution the victorious resistance of our allies. Though we gave a lot, they gave all they had. Lend-lease was successful not only because of what we gave but because of what they did.

The same principle will hold if lend-lease in a new form is to be established now.

A Break for a Champ

("Man O' War will be given privacy and no longer kept on exhibition and open to visitors at the Glen Riddle Farms."—News item)

* * *

Old Man O' War kicked up his heels—
(The effort took a lot)—
He whinnied just to indicate
He hadn't gone to pot;
"At last," he said, "I'll get a break
Long due me, you'll agree;
For after thirty years I'll have
A little privacy!"

II

"I haven't known a quiet day
For three decades, indeed,
They've had me in a big glass bowl
A sort of goldfish steed;
Stared at oy millions I have been,
Each day an open house;
How sweet at last for me to be
As quiet as a mouse!

III

A little gaping no horse minds—
The limelight sometimes cheers;
I like to have strange folks around,
But not for thirty years!
Sinatra, Bergman, Benny, Hope
Have not had much of me:
From autographing only have
I been entirely free.

IV

I've been the "greatest show on earth"—
I've been a sideshow freak—
I've been a hero and a star—
I've even been a shiek;
I've been a great celebrity
And know the spotlight tense...
A horsefly on me has enjoyed
Flea-circus eminence!

V

Each morning brought me visitors,
Each noon the list would grow;
Each evening brought an offer to
Go on the radio!
It often got upon my nerves;
When fancy had free play
I'd see a tourist in my oats
And in each bale of hay.

VI

A hotel life has been my lot
With registers and such,
I never knew a moment when
I felt the lonesome touch,
The ladies gaped and sighed, "How cute!"—
(Such sentimental mush!)—
And horsemen piled the praises on
Until I had to blush.

VII

But now a respite I have won
From adulation's ways:
(When it goes on for thirty years
One gets fed up on praise);
Now shall I know the quiet life
And dwell in silent ease
No longer as a Man O' War
But as a Man O' Peace!

ADD unplanned laughs on radio programs: the commercial abruptly following Boris Karloff's appearance on Duffy's Tavern was: "If you wish that smile of loveliness try this remarkable toothpaste...."

Ah, Vacation

By TRUMAN TWILL

The little boys and girls can hardly wait for school to be out so they can spend the summer tearing in and out of the house, banging the screen door on every trip, letting in flies, letting out the dog, tracking mud, road oil and all substances that stick to the shoes of children;

Wondering aloud what they can do to amuse themselves on rainy days, yelling like crazy in the middle of lazy summer afternoons when adults are inclined to cork off, throwing baseballs through windows, playing G-man and communist in the vacant lot next door;

Building shacks and tree-houses that will be eyesores until the wind blows them down, demanding food at unreasonable hours, pestering their mothers for bottles of pop, threatening to cut off their fingers with jack-knives, dressing up in old clothes and leaving the attic in a mess;

Conspiring among themselves to get themselves killed and injured in experiments with chemistry sets, refusing to go to bed at a reasonable hour because there's no school tomorrow yanh, yanh...deciding to take in all the movie pictures for the next three months;

Hounding the chancellor of the exchequer for extra funds to finance excursions three and four times daily to the nearest ice cream store, be more than ordinarily difficult about practicing their music lessons, eating their weight in groceries every seven days, putting on shows and circuses in the garage;

Beating on pans and clattering up and down the stairs every whipstitch, practicing football on all the tender sod within miles, getting into fights and having to be separated, needing to have foreign objects pried out of their eyes every third day;

Going like galley slaves scourged to their dungeons when urged to get moving on the few simple household tasks assigned to them, such as mowing the lawn and dusting the furniture, tearing the seats out of their pants on an average of once a week;

Rigging up intricate mazes of wires and string to trip passersby, trampling down flowers and pulling up vegetables, feeling aggrieved when denied the privilege of retiring without a scrubbing with steel wool and kitchen cleaner;

Being sick on green apples, all-day suckers, pie, doughnuts, hot dogs, too much exposure to the sun, too close familiarity with germs, chewing tobacco, excitement and strange drinking water;

Being almost, but not quite, too much to bear, with the result that by time for school to start again the schoolteacher is mankind's best friend and richly deserved the three-months vacation needed to restore enough strength to keep a zillion little hellions out of their parents' hair during part of the day for the next nine months.

G. I. University

Veterans who enrolled at Fort Devens college, the temporary school operated by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in army cantonment buildings near Boston, thought they had their college courses cut out for them, but they forgot that Devens college was set up to operate only two years.

Now the 1,500 GI students are petitioning the legislature to allocate funds so that continuance of the school is assured beyond the end of the spring term in 1948. So far the legislature has not appeared favorably disposed to such a proposal. Its plan to transfer some of the students to Massachusetts State college at Amherst and the rest will have to find accommodations elsewhere. There's the rub. A great many eastern schools will not accept veterans who have been students at other colleges.

In the minds of the Deavens students, the villain in the plot is the state college at Amherst, and money, in the form of appropriations, is the root of the evil.

"They selfishly and mistakenly fear that by our very existence we are depriving them of further appropriations," says the Devens newspaper with reference to the state college. The Devens students emphasize that they do not want their school established on a permanent basis; they just ask that it be continued until the present students get their four years of college.

Cherbourg Now France's Big Port

By The Associated Press

CHERBOURG—Cherbourg rapidly is regaining her pre-war bustle and importance.

With Havre now dropped as the French port for the big passenger ships, more freight ships also are putting in here.

Eight or more large American ships are almost constantly tied up and being unloaded at the deep-water quais in the Meilles bay. The Americans, using the port for shipping their supplies to the United States occupation forces in Europe, restored most of the other docks destroyed by the Germans when they left.

But with the number of boats putting in and with the speed-up in unloading for a quick turnaround, every available bit of docking space generally is filled.

Too Much Rain in May? Same Month Last Year Was Wetter

...wonder if it's going to rain ... seems to be the question ... minds and on the lips of ... Marionites these days. Resi... insist that it didn't rain ... as much this time last ... nor as often.

...heck of the records for the ...ns of April and May in 1946 ...r April and to date for the ...th of May this year show that ... 1946, rain fell on 11 of the ...days making a total rainfall of ...inches for the month, with ...highest amount for one day occurring on April 16 when .40 inches was reported.

Last month Marionites sloshed through rain on 15 of the 30 days in the month during which the rainfall recorded was 4.81 inches which is more than three and a half times the amount for the preceding year. The highest reported in one day was on April 21 when .93 inches fell. April 2 and 16 show a recording of .83 and .84 inches respectively.

May of 1946 had 17 rainy days with the highest single fall coming on May 17 when 1.06 inches was tabulated. The total for the entire 31 days was 4.89 inches.

So far for this month there have been 17 days of rain, the same amount as last year, and there are only three more days to go. The highest recorded this month for one day was on May 14 when this territory apparently received the tail end of the tornado which struck at Findlay, O. Total rainfall for this month including May 28 is 3.58 inches. To equal the amount recorded for May of last year it will have to rain enough to make a total of 1.31 inches for the next three days.

Farmers in the county have been able to plant only a fraction of the crops that should have been finished before this.

All sections of the county have been affected by the continued rain and the planting conditions are almost the same throughout.

Atomic Energy Used On California Farms

By The Associated Press

BERKELEY, Calif., May 29—The use of atomic energy on the farm has become a reality.

University of California scientists reported today they had used radioactive phosphorus in a vineyard near Santa Rosa as a new and highly accurate means of determining how plants use fertilizer.

Dr. Albert J. Ulrich, plant physiologist, Louis Jacobson, biochemist, and Dr. Roy Overstreet, soil expert, applied to a patch of vineyard a quantity of fertilizer containing the radioactive chemical.

The radiophosphorus was like any other phosphorus in fertilizer except that movements of the plant food would be traced with Geiger counters. Experimenters said they were able to determine from plant cuttings how much of the radiophosphorus was taken up by the vines and to what parts of the plant it went. This gives plant scientists an accurate picture of the extent to which plants will pick up added fertilizer and what parts of the plant are benefited most. Agricultural chemists may profit by producing fertilizers more nearly in line with requirements.

Film Stars in Ohio To Make "Wyoming" Movie

By The Associated Press

LANCASTER, O., May 29—Eleven Hollywood actors, executives and technicians were here today to commence filming Twentieth Century-Fox's harness racing production, "The Green Grass of Wyoming."

Picturesque Lancaster fairgrounds will be the "location" for the movie during three weeks of shooting. On June 7 and 8—the day of the celluloid race—the fairgrounds gates will be thrown open and the public will be admitted free to witness the climax of the production . . . and, no doubt, to serve as "crowd extras."

Heading the players who arrived with the initial party were Charles Coburn, character actor, and 20-year-old Robert Arthur. Other movie stars in the cast are Peggy Cummins, the British beauty, ballad singer Burl Ives and Lloyd Nolan.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

Think of it as Nature's own way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting, burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. A stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Burbrink's Homer Only Bright Spot of Night As Browns Drop Cubs 6-2

Brunner Scatters 8 Local Hits For Easy Win; Edington Wild

By JIM DARBY

Last night wasn't John Edington's night and the score—Newark 6, Marion 2—proves it.

The Cub hurler walked six and was a bit more generous with hits than is his wont, giving up 10 blows over the nine-inning route.

Newark's victorious starter, Brunner, scattered eight hits and hit one batter while walking none.

A crowd of 1,474 filled Lincoln park, taking advantage of the best baseball weather seen this season.

Burbrink Hits $25 Homer

Bright spot of the evening for Marion fans came in the sixth inning when Manager Nelson Burbrink drove a tremendous home run over the scoreboard in left centerfield.

He collected $25 for himself for the blow, shooting for higher game than last year's home run king, Vernon Rapp, who collected many a five spot for his homers over the two lesser signs in left field.

Burbrink's smash lost some of its zip through the elimination of two possible runs which would have tied the score by a fast Newark double play a moment before.

Edington Starts Wild

Edington started off wild, walking the first two Browns to face him. His own error filled the bases and his third walk of the inning forced in a run. Then Yuskowatz hit a single to score two more.

Marion got a run back in the first when Hollingshead was hit by the pitcher, Wiebel was safe on a fielder's choice, Bobzean singled and Maxhimer brought Wiebel in as he grounded out second to first.

Newark collected another run in the seventh when Brunner walked, to be brought around by singles off the bats of Bernadette and Wallace.

In the eighth, Batt led off for Newark with a single and Yuskowatz put one out of the park to end the night's scoring.

The Browns will be here tonight in a single game at 8 with newcomer Clarence Lawrence slated to chuck for Marion and Elliott for Newark.

Dodgers, Giants, Indians Triumph In OSL Contests

By The Associated Press

The class D Ohio State league saw two of its best pitched games and two of its sluggingest last night.

Zanesville Dodgers chopped down Lima's last place terriers, 3 to 0. The Terriers claimed just two hits from Sanford Lambert's deliveries.

Home runs by second baseman Bill Metral and center fielder Bill Scully ruined Richmond's Roses, 14 to 5, at Springfield. Metral connected with two men on base and Scully cleared the bases in the eighth. Tony West held Richmond to seven hits, one a homer by Frank Boothe.

At Muncie, Ind., Dayton's rejuvenated Indians eked out a 13 to 12 decision after three hours and 15 minutes of play. Muncie outhit the Tribe, 17 to 12, but a walk, sacrifice, three infield hits and an error let in three Dayton runs in the ninth.

AL FINDS DIMAGGIO FAR FROM DEAD YET

"Washed-Up" Clipper Batting Yanks Into Thick of Race.

By The Associated Press

Cancel the obits on Joe DiMaggio's career and add a new chapter. The Yankee Clipper has recovered from a shaky .143 start and boosted the New York club into the thick of the American league fight with his .340 average.

In seven games Joe has smashed 15 hits, driven in 13 runs and batted .556.

The Yanks have won six of their last seven, moving into second place.

Last night the Yanks had a rollicking 9-5 victory over the Washington Senators. DiMaggio continued his sensational streak with three singles.

As Boston thumped Philadelphia, 9-2, in the afternoon, both the Red Sox and Yanks picked up a half game on Detroit whose day game with Cleveland was rained out. A scheduled St. Louis at Chicago night game was postponed because of cold weather.

Although three of the four National league games were played at night, the big noise came in the afternoon at the Polo Grounds where the New Yor Giants took a second straight lacing from Brooklyn 14-2.

The Brooklyns, in winning, took their turn at leading the league.

Enos Slaughter rescued the St. Louis Cardinals with a three-run homer that broke a 1-1 tie and gave the Birds a 4-2 edge over Cincinnati.

Pittsburgh rallied with three runs in the last of the ninth, to dump the Chicago Cubs out of first place, 7 to 6. It was a wild finish with pinch runner Gene Mauch scoring the winning run when Clyde Klutz's base hit bounced over third baseman Stan Hack's head.

The Philadelphia Phils eked out a 4-2 margin over the Boston Braves.

28 CARS ENTERED IN FRIDAY'S AUTO RACE

Smallest Field Since 1926 Set at Indianapolis.

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29—Barring a sudden change of heart by the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and the American Automobile Association's contest board, the smallest field since 1926 will line up at 11 a. m. tomorrow for the 31st running of the 500-mile Memorial day race.

Twenty-eight cars had qualified for the 33 starting spaces when time trials were closed at 7 p. m. last night.

The cars figured to have the best chances to win the race were among the qualifiers, but the missing included at least three top-notch cars. The 1946 winner, a Thorne-Sparks six driven last year by the late George Robson of Maywood, Calif., was eliminated yesterday burned out piston rings as Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., tried to qualify.

A new six-cylinder engine designed by Joe Lencki of Chicago, which veteran Emil Andres was to drive, went out with a burned piston. Engine trouble kept the new English E.R.A., brought over by H. L. Brooke of Coventry, from trying to qualify.

On the bright side was the fine driving exhibition by Bill Holland of Bridgeport, Conn., a first-timer who topped all qualifiers with a speed of 128.756 miles an hour in one of the two new blue crown spark plug specials.

Other threats to the nine-year-old speedway record of 117.2 miles an hour for the "500" were posed by Duke Nalon of Los Angeles, who qualified yesterday at 128.082 in a German-built Mercedes; Ted Horn, the pole winner in the Maserati that twice hauled Wilbur Shaw to victory; and the two powerful Novi Governor mobil specials.

The weather bureau foresees no rain tomorrow, although the sky may be cloudy.

SELECTED STOCKS EXTEND RECOVERY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 29—Selected stocks extended their recovery moderately in today's market although light profit cashing on the Wednesday bulge restrained many leaders.

Short covering persisted on the idea that the list was due for more of a technical rebound but it was reported that such buying was much lighter than in the previous session.

Ahead at one time or another were Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, Norfolk and Western, General Motors, American Woolen, Texas Co., Republican Steel, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Glenn Martin, United Corp. (on one 10,000-share block), Canada Dry and American Can.

Occasional losers included Bethlehem, Goodyear, American Telephone, Pennsylvania Railroad, Chesapeake and Ohio, Great Northern Railway, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda, Kennecott, Dow Chemical, Air Reduction and Johns-Manville.

Director Marx Loeb, responsible for the Sunday ABC series, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," is swamped with letters these days from parents who feel indebted to his series for encouraging the spiritual growth of their children. One woman, a Kentuckian, wrote: "Your broadcasts tell Biblical stories better than I ever could. It's mighty hard to make things about religion exciting to boys, but my boy just won't miss one of your programs."

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

KATHARINE reached one hand to me and I put my prettiest house coat over her arm as I stooped to put on Mary's feet my warmest slippers, with quilted linings and high, fur-edged tops.

The next minute Katharine had divested Mary of my bed jacket, invested her with the robe, and was guiding her to the easy chair in the corner of the room, while I plugged in the electric heather and set it in front of the chair. Last of all, she tucked a small, lightweight afghan over her patient's knees, and stuffed a small pillow between her shoulders and the back of the chair.

"The afghan is because we did not wait to put stockings on you —and there were no warm ones around anyway," she explained. "If the pillow isn't comfortable, I'll take it out again."

'No, leave it," Mary said. "If I were any more comfortable, I'd believe I was in heaven. And I'm as warm as if I were in the other place."

"Too warm?" Katharine asked anxiously.

"'No, no, a million times no!'" Mary parodied. "It's heavenly! I've been cold so long! But — I hate to bother you — I'm thirsty."

"Coming right up!" Katharine said, smiling at her. "And kindly remember one thing. You are not bothering either of us. That's our job just now — to humor your lightest whim."

"Better look out!" Mary retorted. "I might ask for the British crown jools."

But Katharine was already in the alcove of my sitting room where my tiny kitchenette is masked by an imposing bookcase front.

When she came back with a glass of mineral water, I started for the door.

"I'll squeeze oranges for a big glass of juice immediately," I said. "By the time you drink it, and I get my grapefruit squeezed, breakfast ought to be here. I always fix the fruit up here at a cost of about one-fourth what the hotel charges."

"You canny Scot!" Mary said fondly, and Katharine put a quick question.

"Where do I find a table and some linen?" she asked. "Then I can be 'spreading' and 'setting' while you're getting the fruit juice ready."

"The card table is folded against the wall next to the bathroom," I told her, "and I'll hand you the linen in a minute."

I brought a tray from my kitchenette, and put a breakfast cloth and napkins on it.

As I handed it to Katharine, the knocker sounded.

Prompter Than Usual

"Room Service must be prompter than usual this morning," Mary commented, but I shut the door after me when I went back into the living room, and was glad indeed of my precaution, when, upon opening the door into the hall, I found Noel standing outside with a small florist's box in his hand.

"I'm not going to ask to come in," he said hurriedly. "I'll wait until you telephone me. But I just had to know how Mary feels, and I didn't want to telephone. Besides, I want her to have these. She loves them."

He thrust the box into my hands, and his eyes were so filled with stark anxiety that for a second I found it difficult to speak.

"She's a great deal better this morning," I said, hoping he would believe the words and not glimpse my timorous spirit. "And I know she'll love these, and the thought behind them."

"I hope they'll be all right," he said. "I knew there'd be no shops open so early this morning, so I got them last night and Olina put them on ice for me. The florist pledged his sacred honor they'd be fresh."

Sure They Will Be

"I'm sure they will be," I said. "But I'm not going to find out. I'm going to give the box to Mary to open. She'll love that. And I'll telephone you as soon as she's had her breakfast. But I won't let you come down until you assure me that you have had your breakfast."

"My order is on the way up," he said, then added a tremulous question.

"Has—has the doctor seen her yet?" he asked. "But he couldn't have. It's so early."

"But he has," I answered him. "He left only a few minutes ago. And he pronounced Mary much better; said she could work on her lines today."

His sigh of relief seemed to start from his shoe soles.

"Then she must be better," he said joyously. "I'll hurry my breakfast, and be all ready to come down the second you telephone me."
